CHAPTERS OF COST ACCOUNTANTS

The Chapters of Cost Accountants, the total of which is now 44 in number, have been extending useful services to all concerned. It should, however, be admitted that a few of the Chapters are not as active as they are expected to be. Nevertheless, attempts are being made to activise them in order to justify their existence. Reports about Chapter activities are being published in the Journal of the Institute as a regular feature.

OVERSEAS CENTRES

Overseas Centres in Tanzania and Zambia have been making good progress in organising meetings and seminars, and have maintained good liaison with the local authorities and industries.

ACCOUNTS

The audited accounts of the Institute for the year 1979-80 are annexed to this Report. It will be seen that there was a substantial deficit in revenue account for the year. The main factors which have contributed to this high revenue deficit are normal wage revisions and higher Dearness Allowance payments due to extra cost of living, increased paper and printing costs and fall of revenue on tuition fees due to more students opting for oral tuition.

A substantial measure of work simplification and rationalisation has been achieved, and efforts to improve procedure and systems further continue.

Despite these measures, it is necessary to augment the resources of the Institute. The Institutes admission and annual subscription rates, revised long ago, are low compared to those of other comparable institutes in India; and examination fees are grossly inadequate to cover the increased costs of paper, printing and establishment. The Council has accordingly approved increases in the rates of Members' and Grad. CWAs' annual subscription, examination fees, postal tuition fees and Journal subscription.

The financial position was worsened by the assessments made for the last few years by the Income-tax authorities on the gross interest incomes from fixed deposits. Several representations to the Government for wholly exempting the Institute, which is a non-profit making organisation, from payment of income-tax have not produced any result so far.

There is also the urgent necessity to expand the services of the Institute at regional and chapter levels. The growth in numbers makes it necessary that larger accommodation and facilities are provided, and in order that this may be planned additional resources must be raised. The Council has been giving its urgent attention to this matter.

RELATIONSHIP WITH THE EMPLOYEES

The Council is happy to report that cordial relations were maintained with all employees at both headquarters and regional levels.

GENERAL

In general the activities of the Institute have been kept up at a high level in the spheres of professional development, education, training and research. There were many meetings and discussions amongst the members inter se as well as meetings with Government officials, industrialists and others with the object of better utilisation of the services of cost and management accountants in industry. A major issue that has been agitating the minds of our members is on the scope of practice, particularly cost audit. A lot has been done to impress upon the authorities concerned to make cost audit compulsory and to extend it to a wider range of industries. The Sechur Committee did appreciate the Institute's point of view and made certain useful recommendations, but before anything concrete emerged out of these recommendations, there has been a change of Government. The Council is pursuing the matter with the Ministry of Company Affairs.

Apart from cost audit, there is wide scope of practice in other fields, such as, consultancy services, which the members should tap. Here, of course, members are required to develop their personal qualities to supplement their professional knowledge.

The profession has grown rapidly over the recent years, (over the five years 1975-1980, the number of members has increased by 39% and the number of students by 200%), and it is the task of the Council to reorganise operations and establish efficient services both at headquarters and at the regions to meet satisfactorily the growing needs of members and students throughout the country, as well as to maintain closer links with both Government and industry. This is the major task to which the new Council may address itself.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

I have audited the attached Balance Sheet of the Institute of Cost and Works Accountants of India as at 31st March 1980 and the annexed Income & Expenditure Account for the year ended on that date.
